Councilman questions authority for reduction of mayor's gas bill

By JUNE M. HEYDT

During a Bay St. Louis City Council meeting Tuesday evening, Gene Taylor, Ward I councilman, directed Edward Favre, city clerk, to have a definite description of who is the authority on the gas system by the next council meeting.

Taylor said he wants this information in regard to the 15 percent payment of Mayor Larry Bennett's gas bill.

In other business, Sylvia Vinot, a concerned citizen, addressed the council and wanted to know what has happened to the $36,000 that was authorized to install culverts on Old Spanish Trail.

Vinot said the money was authorized over two months ago and to date nothing has been done.

Joseph Brock, a resident of 517 Spanish Acre Drive, Bay St. Louis, said, "I called the city officials and asked them to send someone out to our property to repair the drainage they promised. I was told someone would be out. Nobody came."

"Four or five weeks later I went back to the mayor. They sent some people out, but they didn't do anything. Nothing was done the men just stood around," said Brock.

Brock continued, "You all spend more and more money for people who do nothing. And, further did you know that all the sewers in that area were put in backwards."

Sheldon Seuzeneau, councilman said, "Sam Pernicaro has volunteered to do the work and he should be out there soon."

Taylor added, "Several months ago the council authorized money for those culverts, I'd like a report from the mayor on what is happening."

In further business, Seuzeneau read a letter from the Mississippi Power Company asking to lease the land on the east side of Turner Street to build a sub station.

Taylor said, "I believe we have leased that property to the Wastewater Treatment Authority for $1 a year for 99 years."

Seuzeneau said, "They really don't care who they have to negotiate with whether it's the city, the Wastewater or whoever owns the land."

Proceeding the closing of the meeting, Wilmer Seymour, Ward Four councilman and council president said,

"I'm noticing how many people are here tonight and I want to welcome you. The people are always welcome at our meetings and I would like to see more citizen participation. Remember, this is your city."

Smith is lone District 47 candidate

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

Democratic State Sen. Martin Smith of Poplarville, District 47 incumbent, is unopposed in the upcoming November General Election due to an oversight.

Smith was facing Libertarian candidate and Party Chairman Charles Clark, head librarian of Gulf Coast Junior College—Perinton Campus, but the party failed to certify its nominee by letter with the Mississippi Secretary of State's Office of the State Election Commission.

Liz Stevens of the state office in Jackson, confirmed Wednesday that the commission received a letter from the State Democratic Party certifying Smith as its nominee in the District 47 senatorial race, but that no other party or independents had filed for the race.

The deadline for party nominees seeking posts in multi-county districts was Sept. 9, she noted.

Candidates of approved Mississippi political parties in single-county districts need only to file in the local county circuit clerk's office, Stevens explained.

All independent candidates for state posts must file a petition for commission consideration 60 days before the general election, she added.

District 47 includes Pearl River County, the Leetown and Crane Creek Precincts in northern Hancock County, and portions of Stone and Harrison Counties.

Clark said early Wednesday afternoon that he was not aware that the certification letter was necessary and that he registered in all four counties as the Libertarian candidate.

But later that day, after contacting the state office, a saddened Clark confirmed the party, due to an oversight, failed to send a certification letter to the state commission and he was officially no longer in the race.

Smith said late Wednesday he is pleased his election is assured because state law would not allow him to pre-file bills for the 1984 legislative session until after the November election.

"Having a contest in November would have precluded me from getting a two-month head start. I can now begin pre-filing bills," he stated.

The senator reported he is particularly interested in legislation relating to the Senate Judiciary B Committee, which he chairs, particularly regarding the abolition of sovereign immunity.

He explained that on July 1 sovereign immunity, based on English Common Law and which protects government entities from lawsuits, will be abolished.

"We need to come up with viable alternatives..." Smith reported.

The senator said to combat state financial problems new revenue sources will have to be found.

Regarding the state's claim to apparent private-owned wetlands in Hancock, Smith stated, "I don't know how we're going to address that issue, but it's going to take some sit-down sessions with the State Department of Natural Resources."

Smith, who formerly represented all of Hancock County prior to Senate line redistricting, stated, "I express my sincere appreciation of the many deep friendships developed with the people of Hancock County."

"I still have two precincts in Hancock and I will do whatever I can to assist the people there," he added.

State orders Hancock ammo plant to stop air pollution

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.

The State Commission on Natural Resources is ordering the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant at the National Space Technology Laboratories to comply with clean air standards by July 31.

Wayne Anderson, Southern Air Emissions Section coordinator of the State Department of Natural Resources Bureau of Pollution Control in Jackson, said Tuesday that repeated fires in pollution control equipment on the roof of the plant have necessitated a partial shutdown of the devices.

The 'electrostatic precipitator' portion of the pollution control equipment is catching on fire apparently because of the oil vapor, but has been turned off until the system can be redesigned to operate properly, he reported.

"They (the ammunition plant) were issued an order to correct the problem, but there was no fine imposed even though one could have been," he stated.

Anderson said the plant could have installed a more expensive anti-pollution system which would have not caught fire.

But cheaper pollution control equipment is new combination of devices utilized to electrostatically collect steel and aluminum oxides produced by the plant's forging process and filter a petroleum vapor created by an oil bath used to cool machined metal.

The 'electrostatic precipitator' portion of the pollution control equipment is catching on fire apparently because of the oil vapor, but has been turned off until the system can be redesigned to operate properly, he reported.

Anderson further explained that based on the plant's physical size it complies with clean air requirements for the emission of particulate matter, but the anti-pollution equipment is not meeting those standards.

It really doesn't constitute an air pollution problem," Wiley added.

The plant produces a newly designed 155 millimeter anti-personnel artillery shell exclusively for the United States Army.

Anderson said the vapor filtering portion of the anti-pollution devices bearing the trade name of Smog Hog will continue to operate and the oxide collectors must be in operation by the commission's July deadline.

Construction underway here on 'nautical community'

By JUNE M. HEYDT

Construction has begun on the docks and marinas of a marina being built in Bay St. Louis.

Commissioners Charles Lambert of Poplarville and Donald Hessemer of Bay St. Louis call it "A complete nautical community."

The marina will be known as "The Marina" and is located on the east side of Bay St. Louis across the Jourdan River from the mouth of the Pascagoula River.

We feel the marina will be successful because there are so many people here that want to live near the water and be close to the ocean," to handle boats from 30 to 75 feet."

Each slip will have connections for telephones, electricity, water, and cable TV. They will be rented at rates comparable to those charged by other marinas in the Gulf Coast marinas, said Hessemer.

"The marina is the first phase in a proposed 20-acre development to encompass townhouses and single-family residential homesites," said Hessemer.

"The entire marina basin is surrounded by a protection levee to offer protection from high winds and floating debris in the event of storm tides," Hessemer explained.

Lambert and Hessemer said they were "totally committed" of environmental conditions.

A nationwide search is being conducted for an unidentified suspect sought in connection with the alleged kidnapping, repeated raping, beating and forcing of a Hancock County woman to do crimes against nature, according to Delbert Seay, Hancock County investigator.

Seay said, "A Hancock County woman was kidnapped around 10:30 p.m. on Friday, and held against her will for several hours. The woman was raped repeatedly by the suspect, beaten and forced to do crimes against nature."

"The suspect's description has been entered into the National Crime Information Center," Seay added.

Bay teachers may be eligible for unemployment compensation

By WAYNE DUCOMB JR.
Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District teachers may be eligible for one month of unemployment compensation as a result of a recent decision by the District Board of Trustees.

The trustees at a recent meeting approved, beginning the 1984-85 school year on Aug. 31 with student attendance to begin Sept. 4 because of the annual hot and humid August temperatures, as recommended by J.D. McCullough, superintendent of education.

Judy Barrett, a Bay Junior High School teacher, presented a letter to the trustees signed by 27 of the school's teachers requesting the school year begin on Aug. 27 so the teachers could be paid at the end of that month and teacher contracts would not lapse.

She agreed the past mid-August beginning date was too early because of the heat.

Burt Barrett, Mississippi Association of Educators Gulf Coast UniServ Region director, and the teacher's husband, explained that based on the trustee's decision the teachers may be eligible for unemployment compensation for the month of August because the current contracts will expire on July 31 and the educators would technically be unemployed for one month.

He noted state law requires that a teacher perform student instruction at least one day in the contract renewal month based on a State Attorney General's ruling.

Barrett said this year with classroom instruction beginning Aug. 15, the teachers' contracts will expire at the end of July and the effective renewal date will be Sept. 4 resulting in a two-month period between pay checks because the instructors would not be paid until the end of September.

At the school board meeting, Alan Wilson, another junior high teacher, reported the pay lapse will result in faculty members' August and September health insurance premiums both being deducted from the July check.

Walter Turcotte, board president, told the teachers, "...you've got 11 months to plan. I feel like myself that 11 months notice is sufficient to make plans and arrange finances where it's not a burden for several months."

James Ginn, a trustee, agreed with Turcotte and suggested the teachers seek legislative changes to allow an August contract renewal.

In a related matter, the board adopted a policy requiring teachers who have renewed contracts and resigning after July 1 to find a suitable replacement.

However, the policy allows a post-July 1 release if "there are serious and compelling physical, mental or personal reasons."

Teachers seeking release from their contracts prior to July 1 shall be liberally considered and be allowed if an educator finds a job with a better salary or position, the policy states.

Re-registration necessary now in Hancock County

The recent redrawing of district boundaries in Hancock County has left many electors baffled about where they vote.

The redistricting affected one-third of the electors of the county by placing them in different districts with many also facing new locations for voting.

We realize that when the redistricting was approved by the Justice Department, there was not enough time before the election to hold a new registration.

Persons responsible for the elections worked tirelessly trying to inform electors about where they would vote, and the majority of those with changes were informed.

Yet, many could not be reached because of address changes or other reasons.

Since the last county-wide re-registration, voting records apparently were not always kept up-to-date, and many persons have moved out of county, some have died.

Testimony last week in a very close run-off—which is being contested—alleged registration and voting violations.

These may have been inadvertent errors, but a new registration of qualified electors will certainly help clear the air.

The qualifications of many electors registered in 1970 have since changed, with one of the principal reasons being the highly mobile nature of our population.

It will be hard for many folks to re-register, but, efforts could be made to set-up registration stations throughout the county.

The Cities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland also should conduct new registrations at the same time.

We realize Bay St. Louis held a new registration in 1977, while Waveland hasn't had one in several years.

Individuals living in either city could register for both county and city at the same time.

After the General Election in November, it will be some time before the next election.

Efforts should be begin immediately on Nov. 9 to get that re-registration underway.

Starting then would give everyone an opportunity to re-register before a subsequent election.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

If it concerns you, it concerns us.

Hancock Animal Shelter, Hancock and Harrison Humane Societies leave no excuse for abandoning animals

Sept. 19, 1983

To the Editor:
I am submitting this article in response to abandonment and abuse of animals.

I can appreciate the letter that was in last Sunday's edition, written by Ms. Jill Steiner of Waveland.

Ms. Steiner sums up the feelings that abandonment and abuse of animals is not only unnecessary, but indeed, can be avoided.

Since the summer of last year my husband and I have fed and cared for six unwanted cats that were so generously dumped at our home.

Between my grandmother and parents they had more animals dumped between them until they had more than Wild Kingdom had.

I unfortunately, as my parents and grandmother, do not have the heart to let these animals starve, since they had no say so in being dumped off in the first place.

I suggest again, if you cannot take care of or do not want your animals anymore, take them to the animal shelter or contact a humane society!

Have a heart!!

Fragmented county road system contrasting with hospital administration.

Sept. 19, 1983

Sea Coast Echo

Open letter to Board of Supervisors and the Citizens of Hancock County

Dear Fellow Citizens:

Why all the hullabaloo over a new hospital? Though I live only a few blocks from Hancock Hospital, it would seem that a more central location would be better for all our people.

However, why don't we build five new hospitals, one for each beat? This would provide services "closer to the people" as some say.

Of course, this is ridiculous but it is not much more absurd than our five separate beat road systems operated individually by five supervisors each buying his own expensive machinery located in five areas of our small county.

If our supervisors need higher salaries, I am in favor of this. However, I do not favor (nor do I believe our citizens do) one more new capital expenditure, especially for increasing the salaries of our five supervisors discard our outmoded, wasteful, pork-barrel politics, individual spending, (and even some supervisors have admitted) county road system often subject to corruption, and begin to function as a board for all county governmental affairs, especially in the matter of county roads.

Let me remind you that our hospital is not administered by a separate individual, thank God, but by a competent board acting cooperatively.

Respectfully yours,
Dwyna M. Moinger

Quotables by Cuevas '83

The slightly brisk mornings in recent days indicate that football weather is now on hand, and we hope there will be many loyal fans supporting the team of their choice Friday night.

The Tigers of Bay High, who ran into a very rough Pearl River Central last week will be trying to get back in the winners column against the Vancleave Bulldogs.

Coach Snuffy Smith's Tigers will be playing at Vancleave, we are hoping Bay High will forget last week and go all out for victory number three of the season.

Hancock North Central's Hawks will be trying to continue their winning ways after taking Stone County in championship form last week.

The Pass Christian Pirates, who will be hosting the Hawks, got on the winning side last week.

The game in Pass Christian should be a good one, and we know Irvin Favre, Hawk coach, would like to see the stadium filled with supporters.

The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws will get the 'test' of the season when they tangle with the Bearcats of Long Beach.

Even with home field advantage, the Rocks will have to play flawless ball to contain the Bearcats.

Head Coach Vernon Powell would like to stay in the winning column after taking Mobile County last week.

We still think the edge is in favor of the Bearcats. Come on Rocks, let's see if you can prove me wrong!!!

We noted a very interesting cookbook last week with wide assortment of state favorites.

The book titled 'Mississippi Memories, Second Servings' is being offered for sale by the American Cancer Society, Mississippi Division, Inc.

We purchased ours at the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's office, and have also seen them for sale at several business places.

Some mouth watering Mississippi recipes are in the book, and it could make an ideal gift, while helping the Cancer Society.

We are hoping many will attend the Chamber of Commerce's Morning Edition today.

Mary M. Perkins is the scheduled speaker at the event to start at 7:30 a.m. at the Landmark Townsquare Restaurant on Main Street.

Jeannie Garcia, chamber special events chairman, is looking for a large group of chamber members to attend this important meeting.

Hancock General Hospital is the sponsor for the Morning Edition.

We hope to see you early risers there.

VDTs

What are the health problems associated with longterm use of video display terminals? Are any of them serious or permanent?

Video display terminals (VDTs) are part of a computer - small screens that look like televisions which are attached to a keyboard similar to a typewriter. They are used now in large institutions such as hospitals, government offices, newspapers - and in many businesses. More than 7,000,000 Americans use VDTs in their work, and that number is rapidly increasing.

Health problems which may result from their use include eyestrain, musculoskeletal complaints and stress. Almost all are generally temporary disabilities that do not lead to permanent problems. Most can be eliminated or greatly reduced - with adequate planning by operators of VDTs and their supervisors.

Visual problems, especially eyestrain, are the most common complaint of persons working for long periods of time at VDTs. Symptoms may include eyes that feel tense, heavy, dry and uncomfortable. Eyes may burn or itch and be tender to pressure. There may be an ache within or behind the eyes. Difficulty focusing on near or far objects may occur for a brief time.

The National Academy of Sciences has just released a two-year study in which it concludes that there is no evidence that VDTs damage vision. However, the report notes that poor workplace design and low quality equipment can contribute to eye discomfort. Clearing up these problems can easily solve the problem of eyestrain.

Several easy solutions may help prevent eye fatigue:

-Add coatings, hoods and other aids to the VDT to reduce glare on the screen.

-Use reflected rather than direct light in areas around VDTs.

-Never place terminals next to a window or under high-intensity lighting. Anyone who works on a VDT regularly should see an ophthalmologist periodically.

Senator
Thad Cochran

SPECIAL REPORT

the states to help implement the project will now have to discuss Claytor's proposal and decide whether or not to accept it.

"Even though a number of decisions must still be made, and details worked out, I am now optimistic that we are nearing reality for this Gulf Coast commuter train," Senator Cochran commented.

Senator Cochran, a member of the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on transportation, has spearheaded a Congressional effort to encourage AMTRAK to institute the train service in time for the 1984 World's Fair in New Orleans.

The AMTRAK board indicated at a meeting here that after sometime, if ridership on the train is good, it could be continued beyond Oct. 1, 1984.

AMTRAK's board has estimated to Claytor's proposal will cost $1.2 billion. A congressional recommendation for full funding of the proposed train service is included in the Senate's fiscal 1985 budget bill, to be voted on October 26. Claytor's proposal will be decided on October 26.

A grant of $122,218 has been awarded to the New Orleans World's Fair by the U.S. Dept. of Transportation to help finance the train service.

Four complete British studies program

The recently concluded British Studies Program of the Institute of Anglo-American Studies at the Universities of Southern Mississippi and South Alabama included Hancock County residents Mark S. France, Donald C. Harville and Jonathan J. Holdeman, all of Waveland, and Edgar W. Santa Cruz III of Bay St. Louis.

The program, offering 32 courses with credit available in over 20 disciplines, is in its seventh year in London and has grown to be the largest of its kind in England.

Chelsea College, University of London and Hughes Parry Hall at the university housed approximately 250 students from 22 universities including USM and USA.

The five-week courses were divided into two terms and included offerings in British literature, history, theatre, politics, mass media, criminal justice and business, among many others.

Accelerated three-week courses were offered for the first time in banking, children's literature, insurance, the history of London and a course entitled "Studies in Sherlock Holmes" which drew a lot of interest.

The participants also had the option of going on European excursions to Holland, France, Germany and Luxembourg.

Among the universities represented were Florida State University, Michigan State University, Mississippi State University, the Universities of New Orleans, Wyoming, Texas, North Carolina and Mississippi.

Lakeshore businessman announces as Independent

Thomas J. Moran of Lakeshore, owner of Ward Pump Sales and Service, has announced his Independent candidacy for the office of Hancock County supervisor, District One.

A graduate of the Lakeshore elementary school, Moran attended Bay High School and holds a GED diploma. He is a native of Lakeshore.

The 49-year-old candidate and his wife Annette are parents of five sons—Tommy, 28; Timmy, 27; Kevin, 15; Gene, 9; and Vince, 7; and one daughter, Michele, 21.

"I do not know who my Democratic opponent will be, but knowing both the gentlemen involved I am sure we can conduct an open, honest, clean campaign," Moran said of the Democratic nomination which is being contested by incumbent Supervisor Bert Corrige and Robert Peterson.

"I would like to see everyone personally, but I know that is almost impossible in the short time I have," Moran stated.

"If I miss seeing anyone it is unintentional, and I will deeply appreciate any consideration given me," he added.

ceptable than the bleeding of the tar used in the past."

Many of the existing pine, oak, and pecan trees have been saved. Marsh grass and other natural flora have been transplanted to the perimeter levees and slopes of the marina to stabilize rainfall runoff and further enhance visual aesthetics, Hessemer noted.

"A site two and a half times the size of the marina was dedicated as a mitigation area so that the marsh plants and marsh critters can reconstruct their homes," said Hessemer.

"A flushing canal was cut to insure proper circulation so that the shrimp and little fish will be fine," Hessemer added.

"The economic effects of the marina are already being felt in the surrounding area with construction jobs being filled and materials being bought from local sources whenever possible," Hessemer said.

"The marina will probably boost yacht sales substantially in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Alabama."

The first building to go up will be a three story construction in the shape of a lighthouse near the marina's entrance. It will contain offices for the harbormaster, a lounge, short-order grill, and additional facilities such as a laundry, restrooms, showers, and ice machines, Hessemer noted.

A restaurant will be opened for Bay Cove home and boat owners and the general public, said Hessemer.

Hessemer added, "We expect to attract a majority of tenants from an area extending as far east as Mobile, north to Hattiesburg and Jackson, and west and northwest to New Orleans and Baton Rouge."

All elements of the marina will be nautically named.

Hessemer said, "We are midway from New Orleans to Alabama. This could be their first night's stop. It would be a good stopping point for people on their way down the coast," Hessemer concluded.

Bonds of Peace not likely when Gators, Bulldogs clash

Epic proportions come into play when Mississippi State hosts Florida at Scott Field for the first time in 27 years Saturday at 1:30 p.m. (CDT). It's the Southeastern Conference for both teams while each has proven to have a rock-ribbed defensive unit and national-class quarterback.

In fact, the No. 6 and No. 7 total offense leaders in SEC career history will be pitted against one another when UF's Wayne Peace and the Bulldogs' John Bond call the signals Saturday afternoon.

Peace has accumulated 5,308 career yards of total offense and is the No. 4 passing yardage leader in SEC history with 5,602. Negative rushing yardage gives him the lower composite total offense figure.

Bond, meanwhile, a 6-4, 210-pound senior from Valdosta, Ga., is one yard back in the seventh position in SEC history with 5,307 yards—1,758 rushing and an additional 3,549 passing. He is bidding to become the second player in NCAA Division I-A history besides Wichita State's Prince McJunkins to run for 2,000 yards and pass for more than 4,000 yards in a career.

The credentials of both QBs led the 1983 SEC Sky Writers to vote them co-pickup All-SEC first teamers, and their performances in '83 give ample proof of the twin selections.

Bond ran for scores of four, six, and 15 yards while compiling 212 net yards in total offense during State's 38-10 triumph last weekend over

Navy in Jackson. His passing percentage is 53.1 percent while the lanky senior has averaged a whopping 13.8 yards per pass completion. He has connected on 17 of 32 aerials for 234 yards and three long gainers of 37 yards.

State's four-year starter passed QB Bruce Thredgill of the 1974-77 teams for the second-most total offense plays in MSU history with 915 to Thredgill's 897 rushes and passes. Bond needs 62 total offensive attempts to move past Tommy Pharr with a school record 976 plays from 1967-69.

Still, defense will play a big part in the outcome of Saturday's always-physical encounter, and the Bulldogs have held a pair of opponents to 86 net yards per game, 172 rushing yards in all.

State's pursuit has shown marked improvement as MSU defenders have downed 21 backs and receivers for 106 yards behind the line in the initial two games.

The Bulldogs, who were downed 27-17 at Gainesville last year by Florida after leading 3-0 at halftime, have not allowed a touchdown via the rush for the last 12 quarters since 1982. LSU's Mike Montz roared 35 yards in the final canto during MSU's 23-24 triumph in Starkville on Nov. 13 for the last rushing TD against the Bulldogs.

Still, defense will play a big part in the outcome of Saturday's always-physical encounter, and the Bulldogs have held a pair of opponents to 86 net yards per game, 172 rushing yards in all.

Tickets for the MSU-Florida classic are on sale at Humphrey Coliseum windows from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday or until the supply is exhausted.

Eagles to open cross country Friday

Southern Mississippi's cross-country squad will open the 1983 season this Friday afternoon in the fourth-annual USM Invitational. The nine-team meet will cover a five-mile course set up over the B.O. Ban Hook Golf Course and will begin at 5 p.m.

Teams competing in this year's event include defending champion Ole Miss, Southern University of New Orleans, Nicholls State, South Alabama, Tulane, Southeastern Louisiana, Mississippi College, Louisiana State and host USM.

USM coach Marshall Bell has several key individuals returning from last year's squad that captured the championship of the Tulane Invitational and finished second in the Southeastern Louisiana Invitational.

Leading USM's contingent of runners will be senior David Schexnayder of Biloxi, a three-year letterman in track and field.

Schexnayder was the Golden Eagles' most consistent runner in 1982 with four top ten finishes including a second place finish at the Tulane Invitational.

He also finished third at the Southeastern Louisiana Invitational and fifth at Ole Miss Invitational.

Other key returning runners for the Eagles are senior William Bolden of Hattiesburg, sophomore Michael Dent of Madison, sophomore Willis Mitchell of Gulfport and senior Mitchell Williams of Hattiesburg.

Bell is also counting on three newcomers to strengthen the team. The new runners are freshman Matt Carpenter of Gautier (he ran track last season at Mississippi Gulf Coast Junior College, but since the school didn't offer cross country he is a freshman in that sport), freshman Fabian Martinez (who entered school in January and therefore is a freshman in cross country) and junior college graduate Kevin Van, who attended Copiah-Lincoln Junior College last season.

Next week, the Eagles will travel to Jackson for the Mississippi Intercollegiate Championships and the following week they will be in Mobile for the Azalea Invitational hosted by South Alabama. The other four meets on this year's

Feds fund boating safety programs

Secretary of Transportation Elizabeth Dole reports the issuance of the first matching grants in a $12.5 million program of assistance to the States for recreational boating safety.

Fiscal Year 1983 funds obligated to Mississippi total $190,470.

The funds are for use by the States in their boating safety education and law enforcement programs.

To date, funds have been obligated to 44 states and four other jurisdictions by the U.S. Coast Guard, which administers the program. The Coast Guard is now processing requests for payment as received from these states.

This year marks the resumption of federal funding of the grant program which was initiated in 1971. No federal funds were appropriated during the period from 1980 to 1982.

Congress appropriated $12.5 million for the program in Fiscal Year 1983 and a similar amount in Fiscal Year 1984. The money predominantly comes from the Federal fuel tax paid by boaters.

Secretary Dole said the continued growth of recreational boating underscores the importance of state boating safety programs.

Hawks oiling feathers to avoid Pirate guns

By EDGAR PEREZ

In spite of a big win against Stone County Friday (32-6), Hancock North Central's Hawks are taking a cautious approach to a rivalry meeting with Pass Christian this week.

"Two years ago we came off a big win against Stone County when Lydell Curry ran 90 yards in the last minute, and we knew we had the best ball club when we faced the Pirates the following week," recalled Hawk head coach Irvin Favre.

"We lost 24-0," he laments.

"We coaches remember that one all too well, but the trouble is most of our players weren't around then," Favre notes.

"Pass always plays tough at home," the coach explains in describing his efforts to keep the Hawks flying high for Friday's contest in McDonald Stadium on North Street.

Favre is particularly concerned with a tough Pirate defense which has allowed an average of only 11 points per game this year.

"Their defense looks good on paper, and we're just not sure at this point if our offense can crack that defense," he explained.

"They're uncanny at capitalizing on their opponent's mistakes," Favre.

said in pointing out the Pirates' recovered seven fumbles.

Pass succumbed to the Warriors 21-6, however.

Pirate sophomore quarterback Joey Rogers is expected to provide a formidable challenge to the Hawk defenses after leading the Pirates to an unexpected 18-6 win over the heavyweight St. Martin Yellow Jackets.

HNC carries one conference victory into the contest with last week's win over Stone, and the Pass record shows one conference loss, that to Ole One-Point-Smith at Bay High, 7-6.

Favre urges Hawk fans to arrive early at McDonald Stadium because of the community-oriented nature of the HNC-Pass rivalry.

"The stands were full at 6:30 p.m. last year," he reminded.

Hancock's B-Team takes its undefeated record against the Pirate B's Monday night at Hawk Stadium.

The B-Hawks have bested

Pearl River Central, 6-0 and

St. John 18-6.

Rocks ready to tackle Long Beach Friday night

By JUNE M. HEYDT
The St. Stanislaus Rock-A-

Chaws will face Long Beach this Friday in a game at Stanislaus Stadium with both teams having the same win-loss record of 1-2.

Last week the Rocks took the Mobile County Tigers with an 8-7 score.

"We got some people bruised," said Coach Vernon Powell. "But, we're ready for them."

Powell said, "We've worked hard this week on some adjustments to play Long Beach."

"What we have to do is play a good defensive game like we did against MC."

"The team is improving week by week and each week we get a little better," Powell said.

"Offensively we've done a good job, but we still have to get better."

Powell continued, "We're going to have to keep the ball away from Long Beach's offense."

"Long Beach has a good football team. They are a lot better than their record indicates. Of course, so are we," Powell added.

"The big credit last week goes to the defense. It was truly a team effort, the blocking was good and the tackling was good."

"Team work, that's the name of the game in football you have to play with the team you can't play alone."

"When it came to mentioning some of the better players in last week's game, Powell said, "I truly think if I had to start naming names I would have to mention the whole team."

Powell noted that he wanted to thank all the people who came out to support the team last week. He said it does the team good to hear the people cheering for them.

Powell also said, "I would like everyone in Bay St. Louis to come out to see us Friday night."

"We want to pack the stands."

Tigers hope to rebound, face Vancleave Friday night

Having scored only 20 points in three ball games, coach James (Snuffy) Smith hopes to get his Bay High Tigers off and running against the Bulldogs Friday night in Vancleave.

The Pirate mentor said his team overall exhibited "good effort" in the St. Martin game.

But the head coach credited the Pass defensive squad with winning the game last week against St. Martin.

"We made a lot of mistakes, didn't have enough offense and had a personnel problem," he stated.

McKinney commanded Center and Tight End Rodney Conway, Linemen Quinten Brown and Quarterback Joey Rogers for outstanding performance last Friday.

Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m. at the stadium located on North Street adjacent to the Pass Elementary School.

Fumbleitis was the main problem last week when Bay High turned the football over six times to Pearl River Central.

An overall fine defensive performance prevented the Blue Devils from blowing the Tigers out of the ballpark. Two pass interceptions in the endzone held the final tally to 28-7.

If the Tigers put together some offensive punch to complement their already solid defense, they should be able to rebound and get back on the winning track against Vancleave.

Game time is 7:30 p.m.

SIDELINE CONFERENCE—Coach James (Snuffy) Smith discusses the game plan with his players at the start of the second half of their game with Pearl River Central last week. Football fans attending University of Mississippi Oxford campus games will be affected by parking rules established as part of a continuing campus restoration and beautification project.

Parking in the Grove, adjacent to the Ole Miss Union, will be open only to passenger cars. Recreational vehicles, campers, trucks or vans should park in designated areas, which include the School of Education parking lot on the west side of Taylor Road and an area on the south side of the C.M. (Tad) Smith Coliseum near the water tower.

In addition, the Circle (in front of the Lyceum) has been closed permanently to all parking.

Picnicking will be allowed in both the Grove and the Circle, weather permitting, with an ample number of tables provided at both locations. In case of rain, parking in the Grove will be closed to all vehicles.

To learn how to "bird-proof" its planes, the U.S. Air Force is hurling dead chickens at airplanes, reports the National Wildlife Federation. Eagles layout

Now 2-1 with eight games to play, the University of Southern Mississippi Golden Eagles will enjoy a week's respite from game action this week before playing back-to-back games against in-state rivals Ole Miss (Oct. 1) at Oxford and Mississippi State (Oct. 8) in Memorial Stadium in Jackson.

Coach Jim Carmody's Birds got victory No. 2 last week with a 28-10 win over longtime rival Louisiana Tech. The win didn't come easy, as Tech's eagerly battling Bulldogs held a 10-7 lead with less than seven minutes to play. A 68-yard "bomb" from quarterback Robert Ducksworth to flanker Louis Lips ignited USM's winning rally.

Southern's match-up against Ole Miss will mark the 23rd meeting of the in-state foes. The Rebels from Oxford held an 18-4 lead in the series that dates back to their first get-together in 1913. Ole Miss scored a 28-19 win over the Eagles last year in a game also played at Oxford.

The Rebels, under new coach Billy Brewer, are 0-3 on the young season, following losses to Memphis, State, Tulane and Alabama. They play Arkansas in Jackson this week. Brewer, a former Ole Miss standout, moved to his alma mater this year after a stint at Louisiana Tech. He brought an underdog Tech team into Hattiesburg earlier this year the week before Ole Miss beat Alabama 28-19. The Rebels and the Eagles, a 12-0 bunch on their own field, will be looking for the

The contest will be the 20th between the two Magnolia State rivals. Counting a couple of wins by forfeits in the 1970's, the Eagles hold a 10-8-1 lead in the series.

Wildcat offense, defense hoping to work together against Jones

When the Pearl River College Wildcats and Jones Junior College Bobcats meet Saturday night in Ellisville it's expected to be another classic. Even if the PRC 'Cats' are a decided underdog.

After losing to Itawamba on opening night, the Jones Bobcats have reeled off convincing shutouts against Co-Lin (14-0) and Mississippi Delta (42-0).

Pearl River on the other hand has been playing hide and seek with its offense. One week it's working. Two weeks it's not.

Two weeks ago the Wildcats defeated Itawamba 24-0 and picked up over 400 yards in total offense.

That's more than they netted against East Mississippi and Hinds combined, and that resulted in two three-point losses at home.

East Mississippi won 11-8 and Hinds 9-6. This is the way it looks now. PRC has a 1-2 record overall and a 0-1 division mark. Jones is 2-1 and a 1-0 South ledger.

"We'll try to make it hard on them," said J.C. Arban, the Wildcats' head coach. "They are big, strong, and very stout on defense. Their quarterback is getting better and they run lots of sets. Some say they (Jones) have the best talent in the league."

A bright spot for the Wildcats this season has been the defense. Technically the Wildcat defense has given up only one touchdown in three games. The other points have come directly from the mistakes of the offense.

So far, in three games, the PRC offense has given up three safeties and had one intercepted pass returned for six points. This past Saturday, Hinds finally put the first six pointer across and it only came on a fourth and two play.

The Wildcat offense has generated very little offense at home and Arban said he's baffled. "We may just forget about passing the ball," Arban said.

"When our receivers do get open the quarterback can't see them. And when the quarterback has time, the receivers have run the wrong routes or they drop the ball."

Of the 49 games played, PRC has won 25, Jones 22 and there have been two ties. Last year the Wildcats won 28-16 in Poplarville. The year before the two teams had a massive 30-30 struggle. This year the 'Cats will be playing in Ellisville on the Jones Junior College campus. Jones usually invites the Wildcats and their fans to entertain them in the Laurel High Stadium.

"I hope it will be a good game," Arban said. "I'm not worried about our defense showing up. But, the offense, well, that's a different story. We'll just have to wait and see."

Jack Kilpatrick was named

this past week's outstanding special team's player. L.C. Hopkins, who made a spectacular catch and run for the 'Cats only score last week, was named the outstanding offensive back, and Kevin Russell took home the outstanding offensive linemen award.

Linebacker Johnny Rannels was named defensive back of the week and Clay Squires, who made 10 tackles and three assists, was the outstanding defensive lineman.

Captains for this week will be Hopkins, James Adams and Kyle Dossett.

HOMETOWN JINX

They say there's no place like home.

Well, if that's the case, the Pearl River College Wildcats would be better off if they could play the rest of their football games on the road.

For the second time in as many outings within the confines of PRC's Dobe Holden Stadium, the Wildcats failed to make any kind of a sustained offensive attack and wound up on the short end of a 9-6 score against South Division foe Hinds Junior College here Saturday night.

In two home appearances thus far, the Wildcats have only 12 points to show for themselves offensively.

Hinds, now 2-0 in South Division play and 2-1 for the year, gave the Wildcats plenty of chances to come away with a victory, but PRC's ineffective offensive unit was unable to take advantage of several second half scoring opportunities. The Eagles even managed to overcome four turnovers and 107 yards in trailing 7-0 at the intermission. Pearl River was given good field position on several occasions in the second half. Taking over the ball three times inside the Eagles' 50-yard line and starting at their own 49 and 48 yard line on two other occasions, the Wildcats could only muster one scoring drive midway through the fourth period.

In the second half, PRC was held to a mere 82 yards in total offense, including a 33-yard scoring pass from quarterback Doug Nossis to L.C. Hopkins with 8:26 to play in the game. Hopkins, making a sensational circus catch, tipped his way for the final 10 yards after hauling in the pass from Norris.

At that point, PRC had managed to trim the deficit to 7-6. However, the Wildcats' two-point conversion attempt failed and PRC's only chance to take the lead had gone out the window.

Hinds, whose lone touchdown came on the game's opening possession, used a pressure-packed rush on Norris and a massive defensive front to shut PRC's offense down on a negative 11 yards rushing in the second half and a mere 47 yards rushing and 143 yards in total offense for the entire game.

Taking the opening kickoff, the Eagles put together an 11-play, 78-yard march, capped by a 2-yard run by Roosevelt Knight. Keith Earhart drilled the extra point to score what proved to be the winning point.

The Wildcats had an ample opportunity to tie the game in the second quarter, but wide receiver Perry Martin dropped a 25-yard pass from Norris on a fourth-down play in the end zone. That dropped pass was one of three fourth-down attempts the Wildcats failed to convert.

Hinds' final score came late in the game when the Eagles buried Norris in the end zone for a safety; the third two-pointer given up by the Wildcats in three games this year.

PRC wasn't the only team sputtering on offense Saturday night.

The Eagles, limited to only two first downs in the second half, were plagued by four turnovers in the game. One fumble recovery and interceptions by Ben Robertson, Jeff Ashley and Craig Walker kept the Wildcats in the game.

Hinds' lone touchdown in the first quarter was the first touchdown attributed to PRC's defense this year. All 11 points — two safeties and a 16-yard pass interception return — in the PRC's season and home opening loss to East Mississippi were the direct result of the offense.

In addition to the PRC defense, the only other bright spot in the game for the Wildcats was the punting of sophomore Scott Senner, who averaged 42 yards per punt on six attempts.

A person normally cannot feel the blood flow through his veins. Neither can a nerve impulses flow over your nerve network. Yet, when the blood does flow through your veins it is not directed to do so by impulses from the nerve system. Color film and radiographs show the spines of monkeys and rabbits indicate areas of changes that occur when nerve impulses are interfered with by displaced vertebrae of the spine. In one study, the heart rate of the heart of monkeys was slowed and the monkey developed heart trouble just like man does. In another study, nerve supply to the stomach of rabbits was blocked and the rabbits developed gastritis and other disorders of the stomach. Amazing changes were achieved when the nerve was freed from pinching and the supply of nerve impulses was restored to the affected area. See your Chiropractor! Research studies like this illustrate the efficacy of Chiropractic technology when applied to human health problems, and point to better health and longer life for those who receive Chiropractic care.

Youth Soccer includes 25 teams

FOOTBALL CONTEST WINNERS - Keith Favre, top photo, and Gassy Adam won first and second place respectively in the first week of the Sea Coast Echo football contest. Each contestant correctly predicted the outcome in 10 of 12 games, including high school, college and pro teams. Favre claimed top honors by virtue of a tie breaker; total points scored in the HNC Stone County contest. The total was 38, Favre guessed 31, close enough to win. The contest will continue on a weekly basis for the remainder of the high school football season. Entry forms appear in the Sunday edition of the Sea Coast Echo.

Some 25 teams have been formed and practices have started in the Bay Area Youth Soccer League.

Under-8 Division is composed of five teams, down from last year, but in the Under-10 Division there are nine teams including a girls' team which is up from last year.

In the Under-12 Division there are four with a possibility of a fifth team, and this division will probably pick up at least one team in the Spring when football is over.

In the Under-14 Division there is one recreational team and one select team at the present time.

An Under-16 boys team and Under-12, Under-14 and Under-16 girls' teams round out the league.

Games will start on Oct. 15, giving the teams four weeks for preparation.

There are still openings on the teams for those of you who have not yet made up your minds to play soccer," said Tom Dembeck, league president.

"The emphasis in the Fall season will be on learning the skills and having fun in the process; and is an excellent opportunity for youth of all ages to participate in a sport with minimum risk of injury and maximum opportunity for exercise," he added.

SSC Rings presented

Seniors representing the 13th graduating class of St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis, received senior rings Sept. 7.

This year's senior class numbers 82 students.

The ring ceremony was held in the St. Stanislaus Chapel with faculty members and parents of the seniors as guests.

Brother Bennet, senior class moderator, welcomed the seniors and their guests. Brother Carl, the chaplain at St. Stanislaus, blessed the rings prior to distribution.

Brother Paul Mulligan, principal, announced the members of the senior class as they received their rings from Brother Mark Thornton, president.

Brother Paul discussed the significance of wearing the senior ring as a symbol and the importance of maintaining the rich tradition of St. Stanislaus.

A reception followed the ceremony for the seniors and their guests in the student union.

ST. STANISLAUS SENIORS participating in the Senior Ring Ceremony with their fathers who also graduated from St. Stanislaus are, from left, Ronnie Artigues Jr. and his father John Artigues, Class of 1969; John Abadie Jr. and his father John Abadie, Class of 1948; Cary and Chris Trapani and their father Anthony Trapani, Class of 1949. Employment steady for Ole Miss grads

It has been a grim year nationwide for 1983 college graduates looking for work, but those with University of Mississippi degrees fared much better than the national average, said Jerry Lee Westbrook, Ole Miss director of career services and placement and assistant to the vice chancellor for student affairs.

Statistics reveal a sharp

downturn in job offers to this

most recent crop of graduates

from the nation's universities;

Westbrook said college placement offices across the country

view 1983 as their worst

year in 25 years.

But job offers to Ole Miss

graduates were down only slightly this year over last year, he said. And while the number of offers was down, it appears that the number of Ole Miss grads able to find

jobs will reach last year's

level, said Ms. Dale

Overstreet, Ole Miss

recruiting coordinator.

Further good news is that beginning salaries for UM graduates are up this year over last year, and that the job market is improving along with the general upsurge in the national economy.

One of the reasons Ole Miss fared better this year than schools in other parts of the country is that the University was not affected by the bad year suffered by the oil industry. "Schools in the Midwest and Southwest are highly dependent on energy-based companies," Westbrook said.

"Our School of Engineering is small, so our employment figures wouldn't be down as much as the ones for those schools once courted heavily by the oil industry."

For instance, Westbrook

said, one major petroleum company usually interviews students at 101 universities.

This past year, the company did not interview at a single school.

At Ole Miss, it has been more difficult for some engineering school graduates particularly chemical engineers, to locate work,

Westbrook said. "Now that's not saying they didn't get offers, but instead of eight they got one or two and they were slower in coming."

The job market decline should not discourage people from attending college,

Westbrook said. "When unemployment figures get high, lots of people start to question the value of getting a college diploma. But look at it this way. While national unemployment rate is around

10 percent, the unemployment rate for college graduates is only 3.4 percent. So you're three times better off with a degree. College is still worth

year in 25 years."

But job offers to Ole Miss

graduates were down only

slightly this year over last year, he said. And while the number of offers was down, it appears that the number of

Ole Miss grads able to find

jobs will reach last year's

level, said Ms. Dale

Overstreet, Ole Miss

recruiting coordinator.

Statistics reveal a sharp

downturn in job offers to this

most recent crop of graduates

from the nation's universities;

Westbrook said college placement offices across the country

view 1983 as their worst

year in 25 years.

Among the good signs for next year, he said, are that some companies which did not send representatives to the university to interview this past year are already calling to get back on the schedule.

What job classifications are showing a positive trend?

"We're beginning to see a slight upturn in the demand for teachers," he said, "particularly in mathematics and science, where there is a current shortage."

The trend toward computer science and sales and marketing continues to be strong, he said. "Sometimes people have the wrong idea about sales. When you say

'sales,' people think of selling vacuum cleaners door to door.

There are many, many more possibilities in sales other than that type of selling."

DRUG QUIZ

by Curt Scarborough, Ph.D.
Used by permission; all rights reserved by DATE, St. Louis Mo.

QUESTIONS (True or False)

1. Chronic marijuana users have short-term memory problems and are often so lethargic they can't cope with academic demands.

2. The number of teenagers smoking marijuana has risen sharply in the past four years.

3. Nearly 10,000 young people die in auto wrecks

each year, primarily because of alcohol or drugs.

ANSWERS

1. True. From 1967 to 1982 — the years in which high school drug use soared —

Scholastic Aptitude Test

(SAT) verbal scores skidded

40 points and math totals fell

26. Other reasons for academic decline are weakened curricula, permissiveness, and excessive TV viewing, but we shouldn't discount drug abuse

as a factor.

2. False. Twenty-nine percent of high school seniors say they have used marijuana in the last month, down from 37 percent in 1979. But their numbers are still huge. About 6.4 million have tried it; 2.6

million have smoked it in the last month.

3. True. One result: Teenagers are the only age group whose life expectancy is not increasing.

Effective staff depends on principal's efforts

"The development of an effective teaching staff has little to do with luck."

Instead it depends largely on how well school principals do in recruiting, training, and motivating teachers, according to Daniel L. Duke, director, Educational Administration Program, Lewis and Clark College, Portland, Ore.

Writing in a recent publication of the National Association of Secondary School Principals (NASSP), Duke points out that "the principal has again emerged as a key element in school effectiveness."

He believes there are four factors which directly determine how effectively principals develop instructional programs in their schools: staff development, instructional support, resource acquisition and allocation, and quality control.

Developing an effective teaching staff "results from at least three activities in which principals can play crucial roles—recruitment, inservice education, and staff development," Duke wrote.

"Without capable teachers, it is unrealistic to count on any of the other factors linked to instructional effectiveness."

The author notes that recently it has become difficult to find qualified teachers—especially in mathematics, science, and vocational education. Thus, principals should seek out the best possible teachers for those positions.

After recruiting a strong faculty, staff development becomes important, according to Duke.

Even the most capable teachers can lose touch with new developments in their fields or become complacent, according to the author. Seeing that an active program of inservice activities is available on a continuing basis to teachers may be one of the principals' most critical leadership functions. Teachers, however, should be actively involved in planning those activities.

The second key element for principals to practice is instructional support, which involves a variety of activities to maintain environments in which teaching and learning can occur. This would include protecting teachers from excessive paperwork, holding meetings only when necessary, administering a strong attendance policy, and maintaining an orderly school atmosphere.

"Teachers cannot be expected to teach effectively if they must spend valuable time dealing with student behavior problems and if they fail to receive administrative backing," Duke wrote.

"Establishing orderly classrooms depends to a great extent on the establishment of an orderly school environment."

Principals also play an important role in resource acquisition and allocation, especially in times when schools are facing financial cutbacks.

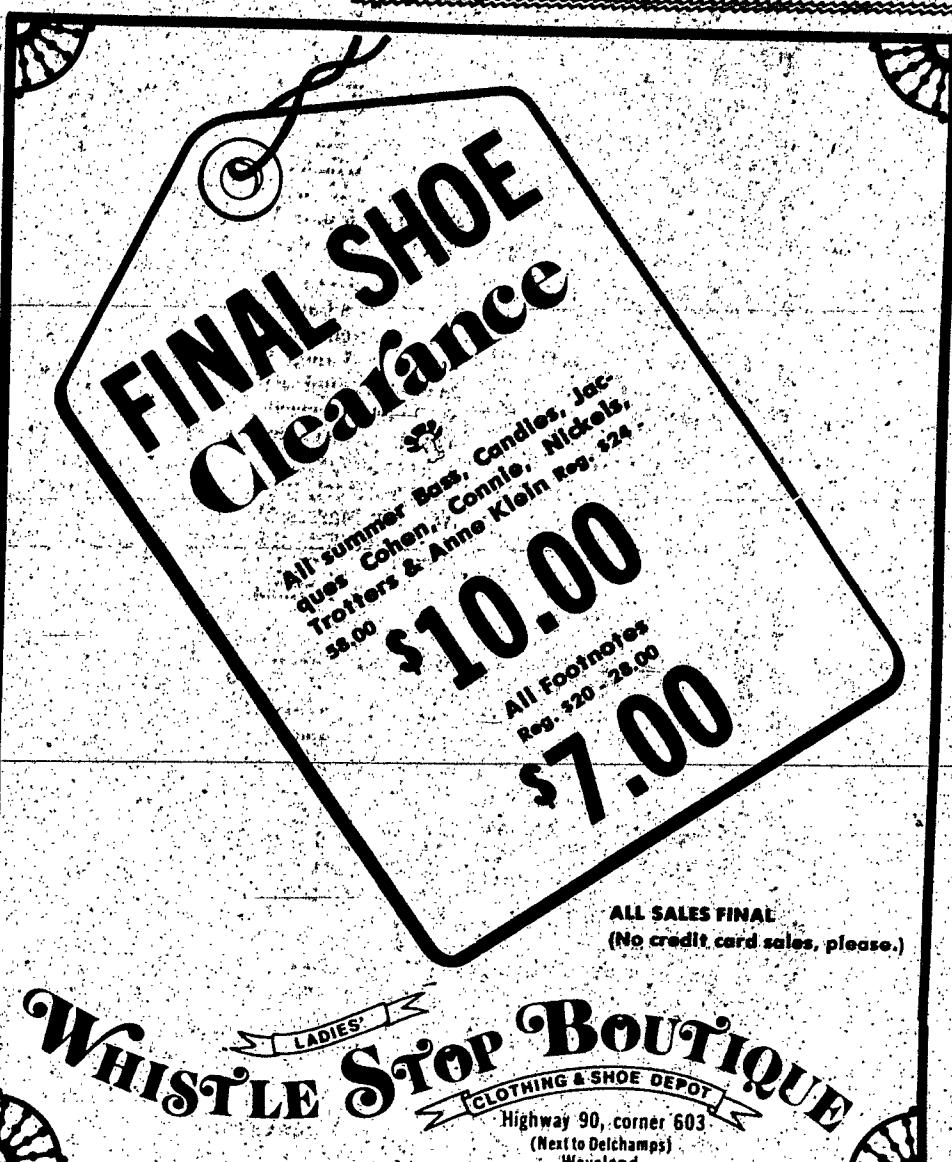

"Adequate learning materials, appropriate facilities, and skilled support personnel are essential to instructional effectiveness," Duke contended. Principals who see that their teachers continue to get textbooks, ditto services, laboratory equipment, teacher aides, even during tough financial times, have learned how to cut through "red tape," according to the author.

The fourth aspect is quality. "Principals must monitor student progress closely.

Korean, Vietnam vets job training funded

Representative G. V. Montgomery (D-Miss.), chairman of the House Committee on Veterans' Affairs, reports the Administration has funded the Emergency Veterans' Job Training Act of 1983 (Public Law 98-77), a two-year assistance program designed for labor exceeds supply.

The training, which will continue for a period of not less than six months, will be for an occupation in a growth industry, in an occupation requiring the use of new technological skills, or in an occupation for which demand for labor exceeds supply.

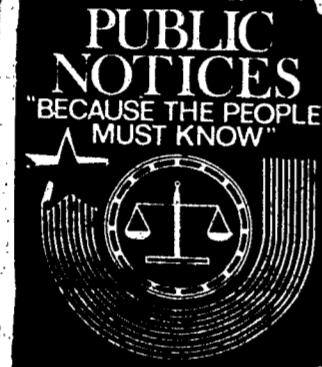

The authorizing legislation for the program will become effective Oct. 1," said Montgomery, "and the money to back it is included in the recently-passed appropriations continuing resolution."

The Veterans Administration is now implementing regulations and training their state and regional staffs to jointly administer the program.

Any veteran or employer interested in participating in the job training program should contact the nearest Veterans Administration Regional Office or local Public Job Service Office.

"I want to commend my Congressional colleagues, especially Representative Marvin Leath (D-Tex.), who introduced the legislation, for their unanimous endorsement of this measure," Montgomery added.

Mike Ladner, Hancock County Veterans Service Officer, said eligible veterans now may apply for assistance under this new law. For information, call 467-2100.

HIRAM WILLIAMS will present a lecture in the C. W. Woods Art Gallery at the University of Southern Mississippi Sunday, Sept. 25 at 2:30 p.m. to open a retrospective of his work to hang through Oct. 23. Williams, on the faculty at the University of Florida for over 20 years, has paintings in over 50 museums. A reception follows the lecture and the public is invited. (Photo by Roy C. Craver Jr.)

Nuclear waste repository site selection process continues

The Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation is soliciting comments on the final draft of regulations for obtaining permits to conduct site characterization studies at possible locations for a nuclear waste repository.

A public hearing will be conducted Oct. 13 in Jackson to receive both written and oral comments. Written comments may be submitted to MDEP during the 30-day period before the hearing.

Site characterization tests are required by both state and socioeconomic evaluations. These studies will be carried out after the selection process has narrowed and three locations have been formally recommended for further study. Tests may include sampling and analysis of surface and ground water, shaft and subsurface lateral excavations, and environmental and socioeconomic evaluations.

Mississippi's draft regulations require that the U.S. Department of Energy or any other federal agency obtain a permit from the Energy and Transportation Board before conducting tests.

The regulations detail what must be included in a permit application, including a description of each proposed activity, an estimate of costs, a statement of need, a plan for restoration and reclamation of the disturbed environment, and an assessment of environmental impacts.

The Board also has the right to monitor and inspect all tests and data collected.

The applicant must obtain any other permits required by other state agencies, according to the draft regulations. Copies of "Rules and Regulations Concerning Permits to Conduct Site Characterization Studies" and 39202.

information on the public hearing may be obtained from the Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation, 510 George Street, Jackson

Q. I understand that the law has been changed so that 50 percent of my benefits will be taxed. Does this mean that I'll lose 50 percent of my Social Security check?

A. You are right in that the law has been changed so that—beginning in 1984—up to 50 percent of your Social Security benefit may be counted as taxable income. But, this only applies to benefits received by taxpayers whose income exceeds a "base" amount—$25,000 for a single person, or $32,000 for married taxpayers filing jointly. (For married taxpayers filing separately, the "base" amount is zero.) You can see that taxing Social Security benefits affects only those Social Security beneficiaries in relatively high income brackets. In fact, in 1984, the tax will only affect about 10 percent of all Social Security beneficiaries.

Remember, too, that this doesn't mean that taxpayers with incomes over the "base" amount will automatically lose 50 percent of their Social Security benefits. It only means that, for those beneficiaries with income over the amounts stated above, up to half of their Social Security benefit will be subject to income tax.

Like many of the recent changes in the Social Security law, it may not be a popular one, but it is one part of a complete reform package that is designed to restore financial soundness to the Social Security program in as fair a way as possible.

Q. I receive SSI checks because I am disabled. Since I live alone, I have difficulty doing some things for myself. Is there any Federal program that could provide help with things like grocery shopping and housekeeping chores?

A. No, there is no Federal program to provide such assistance. However, people getting Federal SSI checks, or State supplemental checks, may be eligible for social services provided by the State. These services might include housekeeping help, transportation, or help with special problems.

You can get information about services in your area from your State or local social services or welfare office. Or, your Social Security office listed in the white pages can tell you about services available in your area and put you in touch with the office that can help you.

If you lose your Social Security card, you can apply for a duplicate at any Social Security office.

ETV Brief

LAMMERMOOR

Donizetti's "Lucia di Lammermoor" with Joan Sutherland in the title role will open the eighth "Live from the Met" season at 8 p.m., Wednesday, Sept. 28, on the Mississippi ETV Network. The opera was taped during a live performance at the Met on Nov. 13, 1982.

Joan Sutherland's first performance of "Lucia di Lammermoor" established her as one of the leading sopranos of the world.

Set in 17th-century Scotland, "Lucia di Lammermoor" is based on Sir Walter Scott's novel, "The Bride of Lammermoor." It is the story of a young woman who is deceived into an arranged marriage to bolster her family's fortune. When her true love, whose family is feuding with her own, bursts in during the wedding and curses her for betraying their love, Lucia collapses. Subsequently, she loses her mind and murders her bridegroom. Lucia's "mad scene" is one of the most famous of all opera arias.

RAINBOWS

Rainbows are special because they don't happen often and they don't last long. Help save the rainbows for all Mississippians. Give to Prevent Blindness, 115 Broadmoor Drive, Jackson, MS. 39206.

FAMILY TREE

The saying, "they breed like rabbits" did not come out of thin air. A single female European rabbit, theoretically, could have 16 million descendants in four years, says International Wildlife magazine.
